

Learning of the Unknown

Iqbal U*

History Programme, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, National University of Malaysia, Malaysia

*Corresponding author: Iqbal U, History Programme, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, National University of Malaysia, UKM 43650, Bangi Selangor, Malaysia, Tel: 60389215555; E-mail: uqbah@siswa.ukm.edu.my

Received date: November 18, 2016; Accepted date: November 18, 2016; Published date: November 21, 2016

Copyright: © 2016 Iqbal U. This is an open-access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author and source are credited.

Citation: Iqbal U (2016) Learning of the Unknown. Arts Social Sci J 7: e110. doi:10.4172/2151-6200.1000e110

Editor Note

The Arts and Social Sciences Journal is an international peer reviewed open access journal that publishes articles related to the latest developments in the field culture, literature, arts and other areas of social sciences. The current Volume 7, Issue 3 published 1 research article, 3 short communications and 3 opinion articles.

Hauer [1] find that during a certain recent historical interval there was a fundamental event, which resulted in unusual acceleration in all areas of the society, and within the two centuries, the speed of some human activities reached its limit, the speed of light – for the first time in the history. Glenn-Egil and Herner [2] identify didactic practice and its competence levels and discuss possible differences and common traits within these competence levels. Sana [3] talks about Varanasi in Uttar Pradesh that is well known for lacquered wooden toys. Iqbal and Ali [4,5] tells the dreams of a man and how he changed his fate and reviewed the Chinese Education Movement in Malaysia that is more focused on Dong Jiao Zong fight between the periods 1970 to 2002. Iqbal [6] talks about Tun Dr. Ismail that stood as a pillar of fortitude under the dual leadership of the Prime Minister of Malaysia, Tunku Abdul Rahman and Tun Abdul Razak, during a very difficult and challenging era in Malaysian politics. Gui [7] state that China should learn the animal protection experience from the European states and other states, and should pay more attention to adopt law or regulation to protect the animals' welfare and rights, so that to protect the nature resource.

References

1. Hauer T (2016) Speed as a new dimension of Globalization. Arts Social Sci J 7: 193.
2. Glenn-Egil Torgersen, Herner Saeverot (2016) Competence levels of didactic practice for the learning of the unknown. Arts Social Sci J 7: 194.
3. Sana F (2016) Wooden toys of varanasi weakly developed the isolated sector and shortages of income and employment opportunities. Arts Social Sci J 7: 195.
4. Iqbal U, Ali Seman A (2016) Mydin: behind the scenes (Malay Version). Arts Social Sci J 7: 196.
5. Iqbal U, Ali Seman A (2016) Chinese education movement in Malaysia: a study about Dong Jiao Zong struggle (1970-2002) (Malay Version). Arts Social Sci J 7: 198.
6. Iqbal U (2016) Bukan kerana pangkat: tun dr ismail dan masanya (Malay Version). Arts Social Sci J 7:197.
7. Gui H (2016) Animal welfare and rights legal protection in China: the problems and their solutions. Arts Social Sci J 7:199.